Receives 2008 North American Partner Award from SAP at Partner Summit Americas

Cincinnati/Bielefeld, March 13, 2009 – itelligence today announced it has been named the 2008 SAP® Business All-in-One Partner of the Year, U.S. Awards were granted by SAP America, Inc. and SAP Canada, Inc. to the top-performing SAP channel partners and SAP BusinessObjects™ partners in North America for outstanding contributions in revenue, marketing and customer service.

“itelligence consistently has been honored as one of the top SAP channel partners for the SAP Business All-in-One solution because of our clear understanding of the business needs of small and mid-sized customers across diverse, rapidly changing industries,” said Steve Niesman, itelligence U.S. president and CEO. “We continue to deliver an extremely high level of value as an SAP partner focused on market growth and, more importantly, close collaboration with customers to fulfill their most critical business objectives.”

Selected from SAP’s wide-ranging North American partner base of SAP channel partners and SAP BusinessObjects partners, nominations were evaluated on numerous criteria to determine winning partners in each product category. As the recipient of the 2008 SAP Business All-in-One Partner of the Year, U.S. award, itelligence has been honored as the SAP channel partner who delivered the most new accounts, performed against targets, and exceeded customer satisfaction measures in the U.S.

itelligence received the award at a special awards ceremony held on February 23 in San Diego at Partner Summit Americas 2009, an annual gathering of SAP sales executives and partners to learn about SAP’s sales methodology, best practices, business growth opportunities and product innovations. The focus of this year’s summit was on helping the SAP partner ecosystem succeed by providing the thought leadership and tools they need to win in the new reality. This year’s Partner Summit hosted more than 650 attendees from the U.S. and Canada. Awards were presented by Tom Cooper, senior vice president, SME, SAP.
